Brittany McCoy Joins Jorgenson Pace, Inc. as Managing Director

Greensboro, NC – March 17, 2025 – Jorgenson Pace, America's premier executive search firm specializing in economic and community development, proudly announces Brittany McCoy as Managing Director.

Brittany brings over six years of specialized experience in talent acquisition for economic development organizations, municipalities, and government agencies. Most recently, she served as Director of Economic and Community Development for the Natchitoches Area Chamber of Commerce, where she led business retention and expansion efforts and workforce development initiatives.

Earlier in her career, Brittany served as a Talent Recruiter and Director of Sales with Next Move Group where she managed over 40 searches throughout the United States.

"We're excited to welcome Brittany to our team," said Todd Jorgenson, Managing Partner of Jorgenson Pace. "Brittany's deep experience in economic and community development, destination marketing, and her exceptional reputation in executive recruitment will greatly enhance our firm's ability to serve clients nationwide."

Brittany holds a Master of Science in Economic Development and a Bachelor of Arts in Hospitality and Tourism Management from The University of Southern Mississippi.

"I'm thrilled to join the exceptional team at Jorgenson Pace," said McCoy. "I look forward to collaborating with our clients to recruit impactful leaders who drive sustainable growth in their communities."

Jorgenson Pace maintains offices in North Carolina, Texas, Florida, Mississippi, and Maryland, supporting diverse nonprofit, public, and private sector clients across the United States.
